CALGARY, May 27, 2019 /CNW/ - Lithium Chile Inc. ("Lithium Chile" or the "Company") is pleased to announce that an agreement has been reached between the Company and the Indigenous Community of Turi as to the locations of the 3 holes in its planned reconnaissance program on Turi. The agreed drill hole locations were designed to evaluate the 30 Km² core of the current 63+ Km² TEM anomaly whilst minimizing environmental impact. The company is now in the process of filing the necessary documentation with the SEA (Servicio Evaluation Ambiental, DGA (Direccion General de Agua) and SERNAGEOMIN (Servicio Nacional de Geología y Minería) in order to proceed with the planned drilling program.

News Highlights

- Locations of 3 priority holes confirmed with Indigenous Community of Turi
- Initial drill holes designed to evaluate 30 Km² core of the current 63+ Km² TEM anomaly
- Filings in progress with relevant government bodies to proceed with drill program

Lithium Chile has an access agreement in place with the Indigenous Community of Turi for an exploration program that includes these three exploration drill holes and in the spirit of this agreement the Company will continue to work closely with the Turi Community through all stages of the agreed exploration program. At 13,000 hectares the Turi property covers 100% of Salar de Turi and is the third largest property in Lithium Chile's Andean and Pre-Andean Salar belt portfolio.

Steven Cochrane, President and CEO for Lithium Chile, said, "We are extremely pleased to have reached another positive milestone in both our planned exploration program and Community relations at Turi. We anticipate having our approvals on our Turi and Coipasa drilling programs during June."
